- 20 levels
- all sorts of options on each of them
  - pleasant music
  - addictive gameplay

As soon as possible:

- themed trading cards
- themed backgrounds
- themed emoticons

Transport Fever 2 officially announced:

We are super happy to officially announce together with Good Shepherd Entertainment the tycoon game Transport Fever 2.

The classic transport simulation genre has a new gold standard with Transport Fever 2. Discover a whole new world by navigating transport routes through land, water and air. May progress and prosperity find their way!

Please find everything about the game here on Steam or on the game website www.transportfever2.com.

Transport Fever 2 is scheduled for release on PC in Q4 2019. We look forward very much to showing more of the upcoming game. All the best wishes from the whole Urban Games team.. Tale of Enki: Pilgrimage Advanced Mechanized Spacecraft
Transport Fever 2 Development Highlights: World Editing:

Today we published the first episode of the Development Highlights series which is all about creating and editing the game world.

In the Development Highlights series we show how we incorporated feedback from the previous game into the development of Transport Fever 2. We give insights into the game design and explain what actions have been taken to realize an excellent gaming experience.
